Schools' Eyeing of Sales Tax Hike Spells Frustration

The trouble with the Arkansas Education Association is that while threatening Gov. Dale Bumpers and the General Assembly with a pressure campaign for more state school money it purports to speak for all of Arkansas' public schools system—overlooking the fact that it doesn't represent the locally-elected school directors and local school money managers.

The state government, however, is always mindful of this, therefore the Governor and the General Assembly pay scant attention to the screams of the AEA for a hike in the state sales tax.

The AEA says Bumpers' program to raise 26 millions in additional tax funds is O.K. as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough—and a one-cent increase in the sales tax is needed.

But the state government might well ask, in rebuttal, why the organized teachers don't begin at home in their quest for more money—instead of pestering the legislature.

It would be the same question this editor has been asking for decades: The local school authorities everywhere used to be the principal prop in enforcing adequate and fair property assessments—but once we abolished the 18-mill ceiling on local tax the school managers quit checking on assessments and turned their attention to unlimited millage—and unlimited rises in the state sales tax.

It takes courage to bring to account under-assessed local property—it's much easier to beat immediate money out of the state sales tax, which is opposed by no lobby.

You know without my telling you again and again that in the main I support Gov. Bumpers' tax package and oppose the AEA's effort to rob those least able to pay—with a higher sales tax.

The sales tax rate is flat—the same for rich and poor. But the state income tax is graduated, geared to a person's ability to pay.

This newspaper has in recent years despaired of getting reform on property assessments, therefore we recognize that the only fair alternative is an increase in the income tax. This is where Gov. Bumpers proposes to get 15 million of his 26-million package.

If the assessment system can't reach those who ought to pay more in support of the public schools then a higher income tax should do the job.

Four Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An Associated Press count shows that four persons died in traffic accidents in Arkansas during the 54-hour weekend period. The count began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended Sunday at midnight.

Two of the victims died Saturday evening when a pickup truck in which they were riding was struck by a Missouri Pacific freight train at a crossing on a county road near Atkins. State Police identified the two as Doyle Bratton, 18, and Donald Banks, 27, both of near Atkins.

Patrick Owen Kelley, 16, of North Little Rock was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned on a county road near North Little Rock.

The other weekend traffic victim, Ronald Eugene Carter, 17, of Berryville, was killed Saturday in a two-car accident on Arkansas 21 near Berryville.

Bumpers Will Not Accept a Compromise

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Sunday night that he thinks he can obtain enactment of his $26 million tax program without compromise.

Bumpers went on television to appeal for support of his tax program which he said was a "well conceived" and fair method of funding the state's minimum needs. He appealed to voters to contact their legislators to express their views on the tax program.

The governor appeared on a 30-minute program shown on several television stations Sunday night and taped for showing later on other stations. The broadcast was also carried by the Arkansas Radio Network.

Asked by a newsman on a panel of reporters who questioned Bumpers on the program whether he would offer an alternate tax plan if his present proposal fails, the governor said the legislature was getting closer to the end of the session and it would be "awfully hard" to present the General Assembly with a new program.

The governor said his proposal to re-adjust income tax rates producing $15 million of the new revenue he seeks was not the easiest tax to pass since it would require a three-fourths majority vote in each house for approval.

He said that if he had been looking for "an easy road, an expedient or political road," he would ask for an increase in the state sales tax. The governor repeated his earlier statement, however, that the sales tax was regressive.

Group Wants Backing of Governor

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. J. F. Cooley, chairman of the Committee for a Peaceful Coexistence, called on Gov. Dale Bumpers Sunday to make a statement supporting the black and white parents at Watson Chapel who fought for school desegregation.

Cooley said the governor should make a statement that would "encourage" those parents who supported the unification of the school system.

"He is not letting himself be drawn into the conflict," Cooley said.

The Watson Chapel schools were unified under court order last week.

Jonesboro Man Charged With Murder

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A charge of first-degree murder was filed today against Horace "Hoss" Cargill, 53, of Jonesboro in connection with the shooting death Friday night of Mrs. Roxie Cargill, 45, a local restaurant operator.

Mrs. Cargill was shot once in the head with a small-caliber pistol at her home.

Police said Cargill was arrested in a Jonesboro apartment Saturday night.

Cargill was the estranged husband of the victim. They were married Jan. 16, and he had filed for divorce Friday afternoon.

Astronauts Promoted

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell have received a Valentine's Day gift—promotions in their branches of the armed service.

The White House notified them Sunday that Roosa is now an Air Force lieutenant colonel and Mitchell a Navy captain. Such promotions are routine for members of the services making their first space flight.

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The Fort Smith Chamber of Commerce and the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce have adopted a resolution opposing the establishment of a day law school in Little Rock.

The Fayetteville chamber claims it would be a duplication of the services offered by the University of Arkansas at the Fayetteville campus.

Threat of Rail Strike Has Dimmed

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a nationwide rail shutdown March 1 has dimmed considerably with announcement by the Labor Department of an agreement between carriers and the larger of two holdout unions.

The Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks signed an agreement with representatives of the railroads Sunday after an all-night meeting presided over by Assistant Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery Jr.

Two other unions, the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Workers and the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, had reached agreements Feb. 4. The two represent about 63,000 workers, compared with 180,000 members of the clerks' union.

Details of the weekend agreement were withheld pending a ratification vote by locals.

"The demonstrated ability to reach agreement in the case of these three unions gives every reason to expect that an agreement should be achieved with the fourth union," said Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson.

Yet to reach an accord is the United Transportation Union representing about 90,000 railroad workers. The UTU, however, unlike the clerks, has not indicated it would definitely strike after the March 1 deadline.

Congress imposed a strike ban last Dec. 10 to stop a short walkout. That ban ends March 1.

Hope Masons Attend Meet at Little Rock

Whitfield Lodge No. 239 had seven candidates to go to Little Rock Saturday, February 13 to take the Thirty Second Degree of Free Masonry.

Those going as candidates included Carter Russell, Jewell Still, Horace Samuels, James "Mut" Walters, W. D. "Dub" Flowers, Rev. Gordon Renshaw, and Herschel "Pat" Patterson.

The Mid-Winter Reunion is held on two Saturdays and these men will go back next Saturday, February 20th to complete the degrees. The first session carried them through the 18th Degree and they will go through the 19th and 32nd next Saturday.

32nd Degree Masons attending the reunion other than the candidates were Austin Hutson, Chester Almond, Raymond Byers, Y. C. Coleman, R. M. Jones, Fay James, Olin Purcell, Clovis Tittle, Bill Mudgett, Paul Klipsch, and Harry Whitworth.

Group Backs AEA Salary Demands

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Education Committee of the Mayor's Council on Youth Opportunity has adopted a resolution backing the salary demands of the Arkansas Education Association.

However, the committee said it was against raising the 3 percent sales tax to increase salaries "for the reason that it would burden the poor more than the wealthy."

The AEA has asked for an increase in the sales tax, but Bumpers has repeatedly said he is against raising the sales tax.

Budget Chief Figures Nation to Get Control of Inflation in 1971

By STERLING F. GREEN and
BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contending that wage increases generally have not been a cause of inflation, Budget Chief George P. Shultz predicts the country can "get control of inflation" this year.

Shultz said a strong upswing in productivity—more output per worker, resulting mainly from a management downhold on costs—is already having a stabilizing effect.

In construction and some other segments of the economy wage settlements remain a major problem, Shultz said in a question-and-answer exchange with The Associated Press, and prices "are still increasing at a rate that is unacceptably high."

"But we think the rate is moderating and will continue to moderate," said Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget.

"Across the economy generally the rate of increase in wages has not been such as to cause inflation," he said.

The questions and answers: Q. Mr. Director, do you find any reassurance on the inflation problem in the recent price statistics?

A. Well, the most recent price statistics show inflation at a high rate. I think if you take the price statistics over a period of time, however, you see that the rate of inflation is less, say, in the second half of 1970 than it was in the first half. We see a

5 Year Oil Supply to Make Western Firms Tougher on Libya

By DENNIS NEELD
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranised an uninterrupted supply of Persian Gulf oil for the next five years, major Western oil companies are preparing for tougher price negotiations with Libya beginning this week.

Ahmed Zeki Yamani, oil minister of Saudi Arabia who was a member of the team that concluded Sunday's Persian Gulf agreement, announced that he and Iraq's Saadun Hammadi will join in the new talks. Company negotiators hoped their presence would moderate the Libyan stand.

Deputy Premier Abdul Salam Jalloud of Libya said during the weekend that price increases demanded by the six Gulf states were below Libya's minimum requirements. Libya and Algeria supply Western Europe with almost a third of its oil, and company officials said Sunday that Libyan oil at least might be cut off if quick agreement is not reached.

Libyan negotiators are expected to demand about 60 cents a barrel over the current posted price of crude oil, retroactive payments and compulsory investment in Libya of company profits.

The Gulf agreement is binding on Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Iran, Kuwait, Abu Dhabi and Qatar, who supply almost half of Western Europe's needs and 92 percent of Japan's. A million barrels a day pumped from Iraq and Saudi Arabia to Mediterranean outlets are excluded, and Yamani and Hammadi will be negotiating a new price for this oil in the next round of talks.

Under the Gulf agreement, the posted price of light crude from the Gulf will go immediately to $2.17 a barrel, up 38 cents. Heavy crude will cost 40.5 cents more at $2.125 a barrel. The agreement also provides increases of 2.5 percent on June 1 this year and each year from 1973 through 1975 to compensate for inflation, plus an extra five cents a barrel "to reflect increasing demand for crude oil during the agreement."

The tax rate on the companies' net income is stabilized at 55 percent. There also is an understanding that the Gulf states will take rather sharp decline in the rate of increase in the wholesale price index, which is an underlying indicator.

Q. Do you have any fear, in proposing this administration's expansionary budget policy, that this may itself foster inflationary psychology?

A. It is possible that people

Turks Kidnap American GI Near Ankara

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

ANKARA (AP) — At least three armed Turks, believed to be leftist extremists, kidnaped a U.S. Air Force enlisted man from an American base today. U.S. officials said Airman 1.C. Jimmy Finley, 24, of Fort Worth, Tex., was on guard duty when he was abducted.

The kidnapers entered the base undetected, apparently forced Finley into an Air Force pickup truck and drove the truck off the base about 3:30 a.m., firing a hail of bullets at American guards at the entrance.

The guards, who were unarmed, "hit the deck" at the guardhouse and were uninjured, officials said. They said Finley also was unarmed.

The truck was found abandoned about 10 miles outside Ankara, but there was no trace of Finley or the kidnapers.

The U.S. Embassy in Ankara asked the Turkish Foreign Ministry to insure that everything is done by Turkish authorities to arrange Finley's safe return.

Twelve hours after the abduction there had been no contact with the kidnapers.

Police said they had no clue to the identity of the kidnapers. But there has been a rising wave of anti-American violence believed caused by leftist extremists opposed to Turkey's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its alliance with the United States.

American homes and installations have been the target of frequent bombing attacks in the past year.

The kidnaping took place at the Balgat base which contains a school for American children, dormitories, a commissary and service and recreation facilities for American military personnel stationed in Ankara.

Young Wants Decision Appealed

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young, the national president of Freedom Inc., said Saturday he is trying to arrange a meeting with the Arkansas delegation to discuss appealing the court-ordered desegregation of the Watson Chapel schools.

Young said that four members of the Watson Chapel School board and the board's attorney, John Warnock, are reportedly under observation of federal officials. He said the federal officials do not want the district to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Young also said that the freedom of the five men was being denied by federal officials, who have warned they will tolerate no outside interference in the running of the Watson Chapel schools.

Conviction of Murder Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The second-degree murder conviction of Mrs. Mable Rooks of Newport was reversed today by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Mrs. Rooks was convicted April 29, 1970 for the shotgun slaying of her husband, Marvin, 59, on Oct. 2, 1969 at their home near Bay. She received a 21-year sentence.

Mrs. Rooks claimed that the slaying was committed in self-defense. Mrs. Rooks main contention for reversal was that an alleged statement she made to police was improperly introduced into evidence. In cross-examining Mrs. Rooks, the prosecutor asked: "When you told your story that night, you said that your husband was running away from you when you shot him at FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Chris Corbin, who was fired as the Fort Smith superintendent of schools last week, will go before the school board Friday to show cause why he should be retained in that position.

Earlier in the day a flight of Air Force F4 Phantoms had been summoned from a base in Thailand to help repel a pre-dawn attack on Long Cheng, the base in north central Laos which the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency operates for Gen. Vang Pao's guerrilla army of Meo tribesmen.

The U.S. Command said the American planes dropped their bombs short of the intended enemy target and caused "an unknown number of friendly casualties." Casualties reported by various other sources included six Meo tribesmen and 10 civilians killed, and 30 to 40 persons wounded, including an American CIA agent.

Official sources in Vientiane said the mistake bombing and the enemy mortar and sapper attack wiped out a medical storage depot, a rice warehouse, several other buildings and a dozen houses in the town of Long Cheng.

Other sources said most of the damage at the base was caused by North Vietnamese mortars, while the air strike was responsible for many of the civilian casualties.

Missile Sites Hit, 2 More Choppers Lost

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy guns have brought down two more U.S. helicopters in southern Laos and field dispatches reported three men killed and three others wounded.

U.S. helicopter gunships went in after the downings and apparently destroyed the enemy gun positions.

The losses brought to 15 the number of U.S. helicopters reported shot down in the Laotian operations that got under way a week ago.

Not including the latest casualties, American losses in Laos, by account of the U.S. command in Saigon, are eight men killed, nine wounded and two missing. Field reports indicate a higher toll, however.

According to the field reports not yet confirmed by the U.S. command, three men were killed in the downing of a giant cargo helicopter, apparently carrying ammunition. Pilots flying nearby said they saw an air burst, apparently from a 37mm antiaircraft weapon, just before the helicopter went down.

The three men wounded were aboard the second helicopter.

One was downed on Sunday; the other today.

Over the weekend, an American fighter-bomber renewed the attack on missile sites in North Vietnam while other U.S. warplanes bombed a CIA base in northern Laos accidentally.

In the ground war, South Vietnamese troops starting the second week of their drive in southern Laos reported they burned an abandoned North Vietnamese training center containing 400 buildings 12 by 15 feet. They said they also seized 400 bicycles the enemy used to carry supplies along the Ho Chi Minh trail, and swept up more caches of food and munitions.

The South Vietnamese also reported turning up another large stockpile south of Highway 9 about 12 miles southwest of the border outpost of Lao Bao. It contained three Russian trucks, 20 gasoline drums, two tons of Russian 122mm rockets, three tons of medical supplies and 700 shovels, headquarters said.

The attack on the SAM—surface-to-air missile—site 23 miles north of the demilitarized zone and five miles east of the Laotian border was the 11th this year against a North Vietnamese missile site and the first since Feb. 4.

The U.S. Command said the site's radar locked onto a flight of B52 bombers preparatory to firing on them, and an F105 in the escort fired a Shrike missile at the site in "protective reaction." It was not known if the missile hit anything, the Command added.

The B52s were bombing stretches of the Ho Chi Minh trail on the Laotian side of the border.

Earlier in the day a flight of Air Force F4 Phantoms had been summoned from a base in Thailand to help repel a pre-dawn attack on Long Cheng, the base in north central Laos which the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency operates for Gen. Vang Pao's guerrilla army of Meo tribesmen.

Steelworkers Strike Three Can Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Steelworkers union, battling for higher wages in the metals industry, has struck three can-manufacturing companies with plants across the country.

Pickets were posted at plants from New York to Los Angeles, from Houston to Chicago, at 12:01 a.m. today, the strike deadline set earlier by rank-and-file steelworkers.

However, with many of the plants shut down for the night, there was no indication how effective was the walkout by an estimated 36,000 steelworkers.

The union struck Continental Can Co., American Can Co. and Crown Cork and Seal Co. but continued negotiating with National Can Co.

Pat Fagan, representative of the Steelworkers' international office, said presidents of each union local, making up the union's can industry conference, planned to consider a final offer from National for its 4,000 workers later today.

Company representatives were not available for comment on the walkout.

Negotiations with the can manufacturers, beginning last November, opened the union's battle to win major wage hikes for its 650,000 members in the steel, copper, aluminum and can industries this year.

With pay averaging $3.55 an hour, the steelworkers demanded a 35-per cent wage increase and rejected the can companies' settlement offer last week. That offer would have provided, under a 21-month contract, an immediate 30-cent-per-hour increase and 10 cents hourly a year later, plus pension improvements.

Details of the final proposals made Sunday night were not disclosed.

However, the board said in a policy statement that the amount for education was "grossly inadequate."

the time, didn't you?"

The attorney for Mrs. Rooks objected to the question on ground that the "in-custody statement" had never been entered as evidence and that the court had not determined if it had been given voluntarily. Craighead Circuit Judge A. S. Harrison overruled the objection.

Later in the trial, Harrison overruled an objection to testimony on the statement allegedly given by Mrs. Rooks after her arrest.

Associate Justice Frank Holt said in the Supreme Court opinion that Harrison erred in allowing the testimony and question without determining that the statement had been given voluntarily.

Holt also noted that the use of one select portion of the statement never introduced in its entirety was "obviously designed to persuade the jury that the plea of self-defense was spurious."

In another case, the high court upheld the embezzlement conviction of B. Frank Camp of Osceola.

Camp was convicted for embezzling more than $27,000 from the Osceola Memorial Hospital from June 1968 to Aug. 1, 1969 while he was assistant administrator for the hospital.

He received a five-year prison sentence.

Associate Justice Conley Byrd wrote that "needless to say, the evidence is more than sufficient to sustain the conviction."

Camp appealed the conviction on several technical points that came up during the trial. Byrd found no merit in the errors Camp said the court made.

Backers Want Hoffa Freed

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — "Free Jimmy Hoffa. Write Pres. Nixon" read the appeal on an aerial streamer towed over central Pennsylvania by a small plane Sunday.

The airplane flew directly over Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary where "Jimmy"—James Hoffa, the Teamsters Union president—is serving an eight-year sentence for jury tampering. He will be eligible for parole in March.

Hoffa turned 58 on Sunday. The birthday card in the skies was similar to other air greetings the Teamsters Union has sent him on past birthdays.

BUDGET CHIEF (From Page One)

will interpret it that way, but I don't believe they should. The big facts are that there is a tremendous difference between a deficit when the economy is operating at less than full employment—and when you want to see it expand and get up to the point where it is using all its resources—and a deficit that takes place when the economy is already using all its resources, and when the extra government spending can only lead to bidding for resources that are already in use.

Q. Do you think that wage increases can be moderated on the basis of a future hope that inflation will be less?

A. Very large wage increases are not a general problem across the economy. They are a problem in particular places, and the most troublesome one is the construction industry. But across the economy broadly the rate of increase in wages has not been such as to cause inflation.

I think the big thing that is going to come into play in 1971 that is going to be helpful to us is a surge in productivity. When this surge in productivity comes against the wage increase levels which will persist, but which are moderate across most of the economy; not everywhere, but most of the economy—then we will see unit labor costs come under control.

This on the cost side, combined with some moderation on the price side, is what gives us reason to think we can get control of inflation.

Q. Why is an increase in productivity expected?

A. For two broad reasons. First, the severe stress on profits characteristic of last year—and really of two or three years prior, but particularly last year has led industry to examine its costs carefully. I think there has been the greatest burst of cost-consciousness across all organizations that we've had in quite a number of years.

The second is that as the economy expands, you tend to get to see the benefits of that cost reduction, because then output is expanding and you have the advantage of having a larger output produced without overhead costs going up proportionately.

Nixon's policies for pushing the nation's unemployment to the highest level in a decade, said it would renew its demand for a law to use federal money to create public service jobs in state and city governments. Nixon vetoed such a manpower bill last year.

"President Nixon's veto of the manpower bill starting a new public service jobs program was more than a disappointment—it showed callous disregard for the lives of workers forced into unemployment lines by administration economic policies," Biemiller declared.

The labor movement will also fight in Congress for a national health insurance program to cover all Americans, and for U.S. quotas on foreign imports which the AFL-CIO says threaten American jobs. Nixon opposes most quotas.

Biemiller outlined the labor legislative goals at the opening of the AFL-CIO executive council meeting on Miami Beach, a few miles from where Nixon was winding up a weekend at Key Biscayne.

The AFL-CIO embraces 119 unions with some 13.6 million workers.

Biemiller renewed labor's bid to boost the $1.60 an hour minimum wage to "at least $2 and bring more workers under coverage."

In a weekend labor development, 17 AFL-CIO construction unions and the National Constructors Association announced an unprecedented agreement aimed at eliminating jurisdictional strikes on heavy industrial building projects and to streamline work rules for greater worker productivity.

The agreement will go into effect April 1 for one year. It provides penalties up to $10,000 per violation by either a contractor or a union, to be placed in special research funds to help solve the industry's problems.

Crowds Flood to Areas Hit by Earthquake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I thought it would be a wonderful experience for the children," said a man about to take a picture of the earthquake-wrecked veterans hospital where 44 persons died.

His family was one of many seeing the sights Sunday in the northern San Fernando Valley on a sunny, warm holiday-weekend. They came to see the most powerful destruction wrought by Tuesday's earthquake, which killed a total of 62, injured more than 1,000, destroyed more than 160 homes and businesses and damaged more than 3,000.

Slow-moving traffic was heaviest where damage was heaviest at the San Fernando Veterans Administration Hospital.

At Olive View Hospital, where three persons died when new buildings collapsed, a guard reported sightseers "were double parking and everything yesterday. There were so many of them it looked like a fairground."

As cleaning and repairing continued, federal officials estimated the total damage from the quake at $250 million to $300 million. The county engineer, John Lambie, stuck by his previous estimate of $1 billion, saying: "There's a lot of personal damage that hasn't been assessed yet."

John Coleman, a spokesman for the Office of Emergency Preparedness, called Lambie's figure "way off."

The OEP said in Washington that $125 million to $175 million in federal funds, mostly from the President's Disaster Fund, would be used to help repair the damage. President Nixon has declared Los Angeles County a disaster area, making it eligible for federal aid.

Across the county, aftershocks from the earthquake continued to unsettle many of the seven million people who felt the destructive tremor last week. The strongest recent aftershock, 3.7 on the Richter scale, sent engineers scurrying Sunday to the quake-damaged Van Norman Dam. They found no further damage.

Tuesday February 16

There will be a meeting Tuesday, February 16 at 7 p.m. in the Douglas Building to organize a "Bottle Collectors Club" for Hempstead County. All interested in collecting bottle and glass are urged to attend.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Leslie Huddleston Unit 12, will meet Tuesday, February 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. David Frith, 316 N. Washington.

The Friendship Class, Adult 2 Dept. of the First Baptist Church will have their business and social meeting Tuesday night February 16 at 7:00 in the home of Mrs. Cora Evans on Peach St. with Mrs. Jane Browning serving as co-hostess. Mrs. Roy Taylor will bring the program. All regular, associate members and guest are invited to attend.

The DeAnn Lilac Garden Club will meet Tuesday, February 16 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William Oglesby. Mrs. W.J. Millsapp will have the program, "Plastic Flower Arrangements." Each member is asked to bring a vertical arrangement.

Thursday, February 18

Daffodil Garden Club will meet Thursday, February 18 in the home of Mrs. Terrell Martin. All members please be present as this is the planning meeting for the spring style show.

Chapter 328, Order of the Eastern Star, will have a regular meeting at the Masonic Hall Thursday, February 18.

Bridge Club Play

Valentine peppermint carnations graced the home of Mrs. H.C. Whitworth, as did yellow jonquils, on February 12 when she entertained with three tables of bridge. Three sisters won the three prizes. Miss Alice Garafolo of Luray, Va., was high; Mrs. Mildred Rogers, a member, of the Friday Bridge Club was second; and Miss Constance Garafolo of Luray, Va., a guest, won the game prize.

Other club guests for the afternoon were Mrs. F. R. Moses and Mrs. Alston Foster of Millwood. For refreshments, the hostess served cherry tarts with coffee or tea.

Golf Group Meets

Mrs. John Beatty of Lewisville was hostess for a meeting of the Hope Ladies Golf Association on Thursday, February 11 at the Hope Country Club.

The president, Mrs. Jim Pruden, welcomed one new member, Mrs. Bob Brown, and presided over the brief business meeting. There were 13 in attendance.

In the afternoon a Criers' Tournament was played. Winners were: first, Mrs. John Beatty; second, Mrs. Art Trout; third, Mrs. Emmett Wassell.

Spring Hill Good Neighbor

The Spring Hill Good Neighbor Club met with Mrs. Millicent Smith on February 11.

There was a good attendance. Mrs. Mabel Brown was a welcome visitor.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Smith and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

Gardening will be discussed at the next club meeting, which will be in the home of Mrs. Emma Turner, March 11. Each one is requested to bring a plant or seeds to be exchanged.

At the close of the business session a social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Mabel Brown won the door prize and the game prizes went to Mrs. Emma Turner and Mrs. Mae Collins.

The hostess served jello, cake, and punch for refreshments.

Coming, Going

Webb Laseter came home Saturday from Houston and a check-up at the M.D. Anderson Hospital; he also visited relatives there.

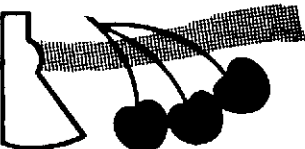

Sr. M. Sgt. and Mrs. Clarence McKinnon arrived this weekend from Castle AFB, Calif., to visit Mr. and Mrs. John McKinnon en route to a new assignment at Barksdale AFB, La.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Bowie-Miller Counties Medical Societies honored Mrs. Lynn Harris of Hope, President of the Arkansas Medical Auxiliary, and Mrs. Eugene Schoch of Austin, Tex., President of the Texas Medical Auxiliary, at a luncheon in the Texarkana Country Club on February 9.

Mary Anita Laseter visited Mrs. Thaddie Thomas in Little Rock on Sunday while Webb Laseter attended a state meeting of Credit Bureau managers.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wagoner of Fayetteville announce the birth of a daughter on February 12 at 1 a.m. She weighed 5 pounds, 9 ounces, is their first child and has been named Elizabeth Dawn. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dunn of Fayetteville; great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Cline Franks of Elkins; a great-great-grandfather is J.A. Davis of Hope.

AN HONORARY FIRST. Mercedes McCambridge has been named the first honorary chairman of the National Council on Alcoholism (NCA), sponsors of January's Alcoholic Information Month. The Academy Award-winning actress, a recovered alcoholic, will make nationwide appearances for NCA.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The entire Sunday evening lineup of CBS television had a night off as the network broadcast the 11-year-old film spectacle, "Ben Hur."

Four solid hours of action drama set in the days of ancient Rome—"Ben Hur" is an extraordinarily good movie—was a treat, of course. But viewers arriving late at their sets had problems catching up with the plot and counter-plots and there was a temptation to give up and switch channels.

A big splashy motion picture designed to be shown on big screens does suffer by transfer to the small television screen. Those impressive "Ben Hur" mob scenes including triumphal processions, sea warfare between galleys, manned by sweating slaves, even the famous chariot race, lost something when the participants were reduced to the size of ants. And, since "Ben Hur" was designedly huge and colorful, it was considerably less impressive when viewed on a black-and-white set.

A real-life drama of the day was the windup of NBC's two-day coverage of Bob Hope's Desert Classic golf tournament as Arnold Palmer won by dropping a long putt at the end of the first hole in a sudden-death playoff with Ray Floyd.

CBS's Saturday night special was another in its well-received series of National Geographic Society shows, this one a pleasant, low-key exploration of the beauties and starkness of the Mojave Desert.

It was a sort of over-all view, including time-lapse photography showing the blooming of the vivid desert flowers and night shots of the animals. The audience accompanied a naturalist exploring Death Valley and were beside a brash young man blasting tungsten out of an old mine. There were delightful shots of shepherds with their flocks that seemed to come from another age and another place. There was even some change of pace with a look at ghost towns and some eccentric who still live in this harsh area.

It was a nice, quiet hour for the armchair travel crowd.

"They've killed President Lincoln," on NBC Friday night was an exciting and illuminating reconstruction of the assassination at Ford's Theatre. The style was reminiscent of the old "You Are There" series, with the extra visual advantage of using the authentically restored Ford's Theatre itself as the principal scene.

Also used were archive photographs. The script, asking many questions about coincidences and unexplained circumstances surrounding the death, was written in a brisk journalistic style. Characters in the tragedy were portrayed by actors belonging to Washington little theatre groups and they were amazingly good.

Familiar though the general story may be, this meticulous re-enactment with its special attention to small significant detail was more gripping than fiction.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

MOST POPULAR LETTERS, WINTER SEASON

Dear Helen:

It's always interesting to know which of your letters brought most response from readers. Who, or what problem, won for the winter season? —T. R.

Dear T.:

"El Fin", the lost little girl, who wondered if anyone really cares, inspired the greatest flood of mail I've had in recent years. And yes, you Readers Who Care, I finally heard from El Fin again. She asked that her letter not be published, but she ends, "I promise to think I have something to live for. I believe you when you say that you and others care and I'm not alone."

feel much better now. Like I've reached a safe level. . ."

Her letter made my day a great deal brighter!

Youth tied with age on the next two most popular subjects.

"Must a teen-age girl put out to stay popular?" brought hundreds of replies, mainly "Heck No!" (This from boys as well as girls.) Times haven't changed as much as we sometimes imagine.

Almost an equal number of letters came from retirees. They either related to or disagreed with "Slowly Dying" whose stay-at-home husband was driving her up the wall.

Here are samples:

Dear Helen:

"Slowly Dying" has had her marriage slowly dying for years, but did not recognize the symptoms. You don't suddenly realize you're stuck with a lost cause, just because he retires.

Happy retirement takes planning. A couple usually has approximately 40 years of preparatory time. If they had no discussions, reached no understanding of individual needs, the "golden years" will surely have no glitter.

The husband must recognize that the wife never retires, and therefore he should assume some of her household activities. "Man's work" and "woman's work" is out—it's "our work."

The wife must realize that her husband is suddenly freed from his obligation to the time clock, and he'll have difficulty properly organizing his new type of life.

And both must care enough about each other so that "living close" won't stifle them. They also need "apart activities", outside friendships, hobbies, shared excursions—all those things they should have planned for before retirement.

My wife and I have a mobile home which eliminates much work. We take inexpensive trips several times a year. We share. We talk. We're friends. And we're — STILL LIVING

Dear Helen:

I'm another "Slowly Dying." My husband has had "dropsy" ever since he retired — he drops here and drops there all day, every day. Mostly under my feet. The main problem is that women retain their energy (even though they've worked just as hard as men), while the retired man just plain quits. —BEAT DOWN TOO

Dear Helen:

checkup and something for tired blood. Anyway, the home is just as much his as hers, so she should let him enjoy his well-earned rest. She's been slowly dying of loneliness without him. I know! —WIDOW

Dear Helen:

How true was your column on saving for old age, only to realize the saving habit had destroyed your ability to enjoy spending. My wife had the same fear. It was save, save, save, so one day I got fed up. I packed and went, and had a ball. After a month she decided to join me, and she really enjoyed herself. As you say, Helen, people CAN change, even "old dogs".

We have a sizeable amount of money and you can bet that within a few years it will shrink plenty. The heck with everything but our health. Tell your readers to have faith in God and to hell with fear! —NINO R., AGE 75, WHO WON'T TAKE IT WITH HIM

Phillips Tops SWC Scoring Mark

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer
Rice's Don Knodel may be the shortest basketball coach in the Southwest Conference once again, but at least everything else appears on even keel.

January had to be frustrating for Knodel and the Owls. Until then, Knodel took delight in good-naturedly ribbing Texas Tech coach Bob Bass about Bass being the shortest head coach in the SWC. But Bass resigned, returning the honor to Knodel.

Of much more concern to Knodel was his Owls' playing. They ended January with two straight SWC losses and dropped their first game in February.

But everything is flip-side now. The Owls have won three straight, including a convincing victory over league-leading TCU, and the Owls now are bunched with three others in a tie for second place.

And it all was brought about by a matter of streamlining. "We were doing a lot of different things both offensively and defensively then," Knodel said, referring to consecutive losses to Texas A&M, Baylor and Texas. "But then we started concentrating our efforts on a few things."

"I feel we're pretty stable now with the people we're going to use. That's something we've been searching for all year. And we're getting consistent performances from our bench."

Coming off the three losses, Rice beat Texas Tech, handed TCU its first loss of the SWC season and last Saturday beat Texas A&M on the road, 73-71.

That puts the Owls back in the race and gives them momentum for this week's crucial grind. It starts Tuesday night with a highlight contest against Baylor in Houston. Both are tied for second with 5-3 records. Saturday, the Owls try to upend TCU in Fort Worth.

In other games Tuesday, Arkansas is at TCU, A&M is at SMU and Texas Tech is at Texas. Tech and SMU also are tied for second with 5-3 records, Texas is 4-4, A&M is 2-6 and Arkansas 0-8.

Winless Arkansas was the victim of the Gene Phillips scoring mashing Saturday when SMU pelted the Hogs 122-99 as Phillips became the SWC's all-time leading scorer. Baylor rapped Texas 88-67 and Texas Tech handed TCU its second loss, 72-65.

The 6-foot-4 Phillips canned 29 points for SMU to run his total for three seasons to 1,753 points. —It betters the old record of 1,751 set by the late Jim Krebs of SMU in 1955-57.

"It feels pretty good to get the record," Phillips said. "Now I can just concentrate on our next six games."

Tech got good guard play from Steve Williams in the victory over TCU. He scored 12 points in the final eight minutes. "This was a tight rope," Tech Coach Gerald Myers said. "We played a much better defensive game this time compared to our last game with TCU. At the end, William sure got some key baskets."

Rice's victory over the Aggies was the first Owl victory in Aggieland since 1959.

Gary Reist, who led Rice with 24 points, made a three-point play with nine seconds left to seal the victory.

Palmer Is Winner of Desert Meet

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The man is back.

Arnold Palmer, referred to by his fellow pros as The Man or The King, had just won the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic, writing an end to the most frustrating period of his incredible career.

"I stood there at the presentation ceremony and I saw people who have been following me around for 15 years and they were crying. It gives you a feeling ... well, I don't know how to explain it ..."

It was the 56th tour triumph for the most popular player the game has ever known, but the first in 14 months, the longest drought he has suffered in 16 years.

"It wasn't easy," the 41-year-old Palmer admitted. "But then, nothing worthwhile ever is."

He won it in dramatic fashion, rolling in an 18-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff with Ray Floyd after squandering a three-stroke lead in the 90-degree temperature.

Floyd shot a final round 67, five under par, to catch him.

Palmer managed only a 70 and blew a chance to win it outright when a poor chip shot killed his opportunity for a birdie four on the 90th hole of the five-day tournament.

They went to the first sudden-death hole tied at 342.

"I stood there thinking, 'Well, is it gonna happen again ...'" said Palmer.

"I've been in position to win 10 or 12 times in the last year or so and either through my own mistakes or somebody else's playing real good, I lost. That sort of thing has to enter your thinking."

Both dove into the left rough. Floyd came out about 15 feet from the pin. Palmer was short, about 18 feet. He stalked the putt carefully—and knocked it in.

Palmer, who has made a fortune from the game and shrewd investments picked up $28,000 for the victory, putting his all-time money winnings over $1.3 million. Floyd collected $18,000 for second place.

Bert Yancey finished third, four strokes back at 346. He had a final round 71. Billy Casper, the current Masters champion, had a 70 for 348 and fourth place. Jim Weichers and Bob Rosburg, each with a 72, followed at 349.

It was a two-man race all the way.

Floyd, playing in the group just ahead of Palmer, took a two-putt birdie on the first hole, rolled in an 18-footer on the seventh and caught Palmer with another birdie four on the eighth.

Palmer birdied the eighth with a 10 footer—putting him 15 under on the par fives—and regained the lead.

He scored from 18 feet on the 12th to go in front by two, but Floyd caught him again with consecutive birds on the 14th and 15th. They parred in the rest of the way—Palmer saving par with a key, four-foot putt on the 15th—and went to the playoff.

Pint-sized Tracksters Pull Upsets

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

A pair of pint-sized tracksters turned in the outstanding feats on the indoor circuit during the weekend when Kjell Isaksson of Sweden shattered the pole vault record and the bulldogged Mel Pender tied a world standard in the 70-yard dash.

Isaksson, a 22-year-old with long shaggy blond locks, and Pender, a 33-year-old Army captain, each entered the Los Angeles Times Meet on Friday and the Mason-Dixon Games on Saturday night in Louisville and each came out a double winner.

Isaksson, a 5-foot-7, 145-pounder, produced his world record in Los Angeles with a vault of 17-feet, 7¾ inches, bettering the former indoor best of 17-7 set last year by Jan Johnson of Alabama.

At Louisville he captured his specialty in 16-6.

And for the 5-foot-5, 158-pound Pender, he couldn't have done much better during the weekend.

In Los Angeles he won the 60-yard dash in 6.0 seconds, a meet mark, and then with little rest and assorted aches, flew to Kentucky and again won. This time it was the 70-yard sprint and he fashioned a 6.8 clocking, good enough to tie the world mark which he himself had set in 1965 and 1968.

Among his victims was Kentucky's Jim Green, a 6.8 winner in the event last year.

And in Los Angeles, Henryk Szordykowski of Poland and John Mason, Pacific Track Club, raced to a dead heat in the mile run, both timed in 3:58.9.

Three other stars of the indoor season were forced to the sidelines during the weekend. Willie Davenport, the Olympic high hurdles champion, injured himself in warmups at Los Angeles and scratched there and in Louisville.

Dr. Delano Meriwether, the 27-year-old hematologist at the Baltimore Cancer Research Center who took up track less than a year ago, hurt his left leg slightly in Los Angeles and failed to qualify for the final.

At Louisville, the doctor, who was a mild sensation on the tour with two victories, three seconds, a third and fifth, won his 70-yard dash heat in 7.2 but came up lame with a pulled hamstring muscle in his right thigh and was forced out of the final.

And the third was Juris Luzins, former American record holder in the 1,000-yard run. The marine came up with the flu and a 101 temperature and was forced out of his specialty at Louisville's eight-lap, banked-board oval.

Saturday at the Astrodome-Federation Meet in Houston, Wisconsin raced to a world best in the two-mile relay with a 7:19.8 clocking, bettering the former mark of 7:22.4 set by Kansas State in 1970.

And Villanova, sparked by Marty Liquori's 3.57.4 miles, bettered the world's best in the distance medley relay with a 9:31.5 clocking over the Astrodome's huge five-lap track. Houston set the previous mark of 9:34.0 last year.

Liquori then came back on Saturday night and the Olympian ran a 39:57.2 mile, the third fastest ever indoors.

At the Athens meet in Oakland, Eddie Hart of California defeated Russia's Alex Kornev in the 60-yard dash, winning by one-tenth of a second in 6.1, and Randy Matson again out-dueled world indoor record holder Al Feuerbach in the shot put for the seventh time.

In Matson's only loss to Feuerbach, the blond bomber from Emporia State in Kansas set his record of 68 feet, 11 inches. Saturday night Matson had a 68-4 toss to Feuerbach's best of 67-1½.

Barber Gets $737 in Bob Hope Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Miller Barber of Texarkana, Ark., finished the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic with a five-round total of 358 Sunday and won $737.

Arnold Palmer broke a 14-month victory famine by winning the tournament in a sudden death playoff with Ray Floyd. Palmer had a regulation total of 342.

Foyt Runs Out of Gas, Petty Collects

By F.T. MACFEELEY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For lack of a small lead weight, the race was lost, as Buddy Baker saw it.

A.J. Foyt missed the richest prize in stock car racing because he ran out of gasoline.

Richard Petty collected the $48,000 first prize in Sunday's Daytona 500 and said, "If anybody deserves it, we do. I think we worked for it. I don't think anybody gave it to us."

The Petty team is said to be the only one operating with manufacturer backing this season as Ford bowed out completely and Chrysler cut its racing budget to the bone.

Petty, in a 1971 Plymouth, and Baker, in a 1971 Dodge, are the only NASCAR drivers with full factory aid, and they run together under the Petty Enterprises banner with a carefully trained pit crew and precision preparation headed by Richard and his brother Maurice.

"When we get in deep trouble, we call for dad," said Richard. He referred to Lee Petty, who won the first Daytona 500 in 1959 and headed the operation until Richard was experienced enough to take charge.

In his 13 years at the wheel, Richard Petty has won $880,000 and won 120 races. Second best is David Pearson with 58 victories. He finished fourth Sunday behind Petty, Baker and Foyt in that order.

Foyt's car owners, the Wood brothers, asked for a recount. Foyt finished the race just in front of Petty, but speedway officials said he was on the 199th lap and Petty on the 200th of the high-banked 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway.

"They were satisfied when they checked the lap tapes," a speedway official reported. "They didn't make an official protest."

Foyt lost a lap when he ran out of gasoline as the battle for first money sifted down from a wide open contest in which a dozen drivers thrilled the crowd of 92,300 to a battle among four who survived earlier troubles.

Baker blamed himself for losing.

"I second guessed the crew on my last stop and told them to take a little bite out of the car," he said.

That meant take one of the wedge-shaped weights out of the left rear end and change the balance.

"It turned out I was wrong, but it was too late to change then," he said. "I couldn't control it in the turns and was all over the track until I settled down for second place."

Petty said his car handled like a dream but he did have one problem.

"When we stopped on the green light near the end, a gas line valve stuck," he said. "The crew had to raise the trunk and hit it with a hammer."

The positions at the end were almost anticlimax to the closeness through most of the 200 laps. From the start through 400 miles there were packs of 7 to 10 running together at the front —changing the lead among them 48 times. Eleven drivers were in front at various times.

Seven caution flags for a total of 41 laps helped keep the field bunched but also marked the loss of Lee Roy Yarborough in a fiery drive off the fourth turn when an oil line broke and of Donnie Allison when he cracked the wall in front of the grandstand during a caution lap in a bunched up crowd.

Other contenders were cut down with mechanical troubles.

The only serious trouble came early in the race—after only 22 miles—when 32-year-old rookie Maynard Troyer of Spencerport, N.Y., blew an engine on the high banked west turn and his 1969 Ford went rolling down the track.

Troyer was hospitalized with a broken hand and head injuries. He was listed in serious condition but reported conscious and improving.

The Favorite 'Avenger' Wins at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Annette Mann's Staunch Avenger, the 1-5 favorite, captured the $15,000 Hot Springs Handicap by beating a field of five other 3-year-old Arkansas Derby hopefuls Saturday at Oaklawn Park.

Staunch Avenger ran the 6 furlongs on a fast track in 1:11 1-5.

Paying more to place than win, the colt returned $2.80, $3.00 and $2.40. Second place Knight Counter returned $8.80 and $3.60 and Saltwell paid $3.00.

Running third behind Knight Counter and front-runner Saltwell coming out of the starting gate, Staunch Avenger, ridden by David Whited, took aim on leader Saltwell and took over the lead heading into the turn. Staunch Avenger held off stubborn Knight Counter by one length as the horses headed down the stretch and finally in the last eighth widened that lead as the horses behind began to tire.

Jockey J. L. Lively accounted for the meeting's first winning triple Saturday by piloting Irish Knight across the wire in the third race and aboard Jet's Champ in the sixth.

Emedas Hinojosa scored a winning double aboard Regress in the second and Kind R. Reception in the seventh.

The winning daily double (nos. 3 and 3), Jay Kaye Roman in the first and Regress in the second paid $156.

The crowd of 19,435 wagered $1,285,044.

Bulls Within a Game of the Pistons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The latest trading report from the National Basketball Association shows a bull market and good deal of over-the-counter volume.

The Chicago Bulls cowtailed Cleveland 103-83 and climbed within a game of the second-place Detroit Pistons, who lost to Boston 110-108, in the Midwest Division.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn created some of the volume when he war tossed out of the game for disputing a foul call shortly before John Havlicek's sank two free throws with seven seconds left for the Celtics' triumph.

That enabled Boston to move within two games of runner-up Philadelphia in the Atlantic Division. The 76ers bowed to Baltimore 112-103 and Coach Jack Ramsey added to the volume when he said he was playing the game under protest after the 76ers were tagged with a technical foul for having six players on the court.

Elsewhere, Milwaukee crushed Atlanta 124-88, Los Angeles downed Cincinnati 125-113, Phoenix turned back Buffalo 108-97 and Seattle blasted San Francisco 146-101.

In the ABA, it was New York 118, Denver 117; Virginia 144, Kentucky 140; Indiana 116, Memphis 111 in overtime; the Floridians 109, Carolina 106 and Utah 128, Pittsburgh 118.

The Bulls played without leading scorer Bob Love but Jerry Sloan picked up the slack with 26 points and a fine defensive effort. John Johnson's 26 points paced the Cavaliers.

Havlicek not only sank Boston's winning free throws but led the Celtics with 36 points. Dave Bing had 27 for Detroit. Havlicek, Don Chaney and Don Nelson sparked a Boston comeback from a five-point deficit in the final period.

Earl Monroe scored 15 of his 33 points in the third quarter as Baltimore trimmed Philadelphia and dropped the 76ers 3½ games behind front-running New York in the Atlantic Division. Philly's Billy Cunningham led all scorers with 35 points.

Milwaukee ran its winning streak to six games and snapped Atlanta's five-game skein by rolling to a 32-14 lead in the first period and coasting home. Lew Alcindor scored 23 points for the Bucks and controlled the board.

Los Angeles jumped to an early lead over the Royals and never headed, building a 16-point halftime bulge. Jerry West topped the Lakers with 22 points and Norm Van Lier was high for Cincinnati with 24.

Phoenix stayed right in the race for second in the Midwest Division—the Suns trail Detroit by 1½ games and Chicago by one-half game—as Dick Van Arsdale and Clem Haskins combined for 51 points against Buffalo. Van Arsdale had 29, Haskins 22 and Mel Counts added 20. John Wetzel contributed 16 points and cooled off Buffalo's Don May, who scored 20 of his game high 32 in the first half.

Seattle, which had lost nine of 12 games, matched the highest point total in the club's four-year history and registered the largest victory margin ever. Spencer Haywood was high with 25 points.

Saturday night, it was Milwaukee 103, Chicago 96; Buffalo 111, Cleveland 106; New York 114, Phoenix 97 and San Diego 120, Cincinnati 116.

SMU Downs Hogs Again by 112-99

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Southern Methodist University handily Arkansas its ninth straight defeat Saturday by whipping the Razorbacks 112-99 in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Bobby Rollings and Larry Delzell sparked SMU to an early lead and the Mustangs never trailed.

Rollings hit 14 of 18 from the field and scored 31 points while Delzell hit eight of 13 from the field for 22 points.

The Mustangs, now 5-3 in the conference and 13-7 overall, took a 61-44 halftime lead and led by 26 points late in the game.

SMU's Gene Phillips had one of his poorer shooting performances (8 of 19) but the 6-3 senior warmed up late for 29 points and set a Southwest Conference scoring record. Phillips has now scored 1,755 points in three seasons — a record that surpasses that of the late Jim Krebs who scored 1,753 in 1955-57.

Arkansas, now 0-8 in the league and 4-18 overall, was led by Vernon Murphy with 27 points and 15 rebounds and Almer Lee with 26 points.

Milwaukee ran its winning streak to six games and snapped Atlanta's five-game skein by rolling to a 32-14 lead in the first period and coasting home. Lew Alcindor scored 23 points for the Bucks and controlled the board.

War Heim Was Exception at Santa Anita

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
A $100 longshot seldom wins a $100,000 stakes in thoroughbred racing but War Heim was an exception.

In the $132,100 Charles H. Strub Stakes at Santa Anita last Saturday, War Heim, ridden by Johnny Sellers, got up in the final strides to win by a nose over Hanalei Bay and return a C-note for each $2 bet on him to win.

Fort Marcy, the 1970 Horse of The Year, just missed in his stretch charge in the first division of the $48,400 Bougainvillea Turf Handicap at Hialeah and lost by a head to Shelter Bay.

War Heim, a California 4-year-old owned by Hazel Huffman, had finished third to Willock and Hanalei Bay in his previous start, the San Fernando Stakes.

Sellers disclosed that he had suggested to trainer Dale Landers after the San Fernando to use a ring bit on War Heim for the Strub.

"He did and the horse ran perfectly," Sellers said.

Merlin Volzke, who rode Hanalei Bay, thought he was going to win "but in the last couple of jumps I couldn't hold off War Heim."

The favored Loud, the top weight at 119 pounds to 118 for Hanalei Bay and 115 for War Heim, finished seventh in the field of 12 for the 1¼ mile race. Mickey McGuire finished third.

Fort Marcy, from Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, was making his first start as a 7-year-old in the Bougainvillea and turned in an impressive performance. He carried top weight of 126 pounds to 119 for Shelter Bay, who paid $8.40.

"It was a perfect race for our horse, except that he didn't quite win it," commented Elliott Burch, trainer of Fort Marcy. "The other horse had a big lead on us and he had a pretty good edge in the weights. But I don't have any complaints."

More The Merrier, $30.40, won the second division of the Bougainvillea under 111 pounds.

Staunch Avenger, the 1-5 favorite at $2.60, easily won the Hot Springs Handicap at Oaklawn Park and became an even stronger choice for the Arkansas Derby.

Out Of The Park, $7, beat Never Wink by a length in the Southern Maryland Handicap at Bowie and Joe Frazier, $33.40, took the Pelletieri Handicap at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

The last five races were cancelled at Lincoln Downs because of rain and fog that reduced visibility to dangerous levels.

The $100,000 Widener Handicap at Hialeah tops the weekend national program this week.

Elsewhere on Saturday is the $60,000 San Luis Obispo Handicap at Santa Anita, the $30,000 San Francisco Mile at Golden Gate Fields, the $22,000 Conniver Handicap at Bowie and the $15,000 Bayou Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Loses $5,000 But Finds a Quarter

NEW YORK (AP) — Clark Graebner bent over in the posh locker room of the Vanderbilt Athletic Club and picked something up off the carpeted floor.

"I lost $2,500 and I found a quarter. I guess things could have been worse," the former bad boy of U.S. tennis remarked.

That was one of the few demonstrations of emotion by Graebner Sunday after being beaten by Yugoslavia's Zeko Franulovic, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4, 7-5 in the battle for the $5,000 first prize in the Clean Air Tennis Classic.

"I've learned to concentrate on beating my opponent and not getting disturbed about every little thing," he said after the contest. "In years past, in a real close match like this, when five or 10 good shots beat me, I would have wilted under the pressure. But now I'm just trying to play better and to create some breaks."

Victories by Ilie Nastase of Romania and the Spanish doubles team of Juan Gisbert and Manuel Orantes made it all but a sweep for Europe.

Nastase, whose 11-match winning streak was snapped by Graebner in a Saturday night semifinal, beat Brazil's Thomaz Koch 7-6, 4-6, 6-2 to take the $1,750 third-place money.

Hull Vaults to No. 2 Spot in Scoring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bobby Hull, Chicago's Golden Jet, vaulted into the No. 2 spot in the National Hockey League's all-time scoring race and while Gordie Howe didn't do much to keep his massive margin at the top, he wasn't exactly napping.

Hull slammed in a pair of goals—the 545th and 546th of his career—to lead the West Division's runaway Black Hawks to a 3-1 victory over Vancouver Sunday night.

Howe didn't ripple the cords for Detroit—but he set up three other goals as the Red Wings blanked Los Angeles 4-0 to climb out of the East cellar.

In Sunday's other NHL action New York nipped St. Louis 2-1, Minnesota edged Pittsburgh 5-4, Buffalo slipped by Philadelphia 3-2 and Boston bombed Toronto 5-1.

On Saturday St. Louis nipped New York 2-1, Pittsburgh upset Chicago 5-4, Montreal tamed California 5-2, Toronto crushed Los Angeles 8-1 and Minnesota and Philadelphia played to a 2-2 deadlock.

Hull, who went into Sunday night's game tied with Montreal's great retired star, Maurice "Rocket" Richard, in career-goals, scored the winning and insurance markers against Vancouver.

After Jim Pappin had given the Black Hawks a 1-0 lead, Hull blasted in his first of the night at 15:43 of the opening period.

Then, after Ted Taylor brought the Canucks within a goal early in the final frame, Hull wrapped it up as he breezed through the Canucks' defense, drew goalie Charlie Hodge out of position and fired it home.

Howe, the ageless wonder who has amassed an incredible 849 goals—including 67 in playoff games—in his 25-year NHL career, teamed with rookie Tom Webster for Detroit's first two tallies, then set up Renald LeClerc for the third.

Bill Collins wrapped up the scoring while goalie Tim Ruthford turned aside 32 shots by the Kings to give the Red Wings their first shutout of the season and lift them a point ahead of Vancouver.

New York goalie Gilles Ville-mure, riding a 2-0 lead on early goals by Brad Park and Dave Balon, had the Blues blanked until Jim Lorentz scored in the closing minutes.

Shortly before that marker, Tim McCreary appeared to have scored for St. Louis—but referee Wally Harris ruled the puck had been kicked in and disallowed the goal. And when McCreary flung his stick and gloves in the air in anger, Harris kicked him out of the game.

Minnesota raced to a 3-0 lead on a pair of first-period goals by J.P. Parise and one by Danny Grant, then held off Pittsburgh to move into a third-place West Division tied with the Penguins.

Bill Goldsworthy of the North Stars kept a personal streak going with his 13th goal in as many games while Gord Labossiere scored what proved to be the winner.

Buffalo's Gil Perreault moved within five of tying the record for goals scored by a rookie, knocking home his 29th of the season to turn back Philadelphia. Paul Andrea and Eddie Shack also scored for the Sabres and Billy Clarke and Rick MacLeish replied for the Flyers.

The amazing Bruins maintained their nine-point lead over runner-up New York in the East as the equally amazing Phil Esposito, the league's leading scorer this season, connected for his 48th goal in the nationally televised afternoon contest, snapping a 1-1 tie.

Derek Sanderson opened the scoring for Boston just 28 seconds into the game and, after Postmaster A.D. Brannan announced the retirement of Merlin Coop, assistant postmaster, February 12, 1971. Merlin joined the post office May 22, 1934 as a temporary substitute carrier and since that time has worked in virtually every position in the office.

"Merlin was a valuable employee and will be missed by the department," Postmaster Brannan said.

He plans to pursue his hobby of raising crickets for use as fish-bait for Southwest Arkansas sportsman. He was presented a check of $100 as a token of appreciation by his fellow employees. He is a World War II veteran and a member of the First Christian Church.

Thinks Agnew Is Getting Some Better

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's golf game, erratic though it may be, draws a vote of approval from professional Doug Snaders.

"He's improving, is a pretty good putter and doesn't give up," commented Sanders after the Saturday round in the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

There's the Veep started by hitting three spectators and wound up his round with a par hole in front of a huge throng.

In between, he dubbed his share of shots and also hit some which brought him cheers. Generally, the gallery at the Bermuda Dunes Country Club appeared sympathetic.

A year ago in this tournament, Agnew hit Sanders on the head with his second shot of the day. This time he opened his round with a shot off the toe of his club. The ball flew nearly at right angles low and into the gallery stands.

It hit G.L. Decker, 66, of Salem, Ore., on the forearm and then bounced off the arm of Decker's wife. Neither was hurt.

Agnew apologized and kissed the woman's arm.

Then he returned to the tee and reported the same type of shot. This time the ball hit the left ankle of Mrs. Jacqueline Woods, 35, of Chatsworth, Calif. She departed ambulance to an Indian hospital but was released when X rays showed no fracture.

Obviously shaken, Agnew decided against trying the tee shot again. So he started his play on the second hole with Sanders, Hope and baseball star Willie Mays.

State Avenges Earlier Loss to Alabama

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — John Belcher scored 22 points as Arkansas State avenged an earlier loss with a 76-59 drubbing of South Alabama here Saturday night.

ASU's inside due of Belcher and Steve Brooks proved to be the difference in the contest. Brooks added 21 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Roger Webb scored 18 points to pace South Alabama.

The Indians, who are tied for the Southland Conference lead, raised their season mark to 12-7 while the Jaguars dropped to 14-8.

The Indians were on top, 39-33, at halftime, and were never seriously threatened although South Alabama stayed close until the final eight minutes.

Dave Keon evened it up for Toronto and Espo put the Bruins ahead to stay. Wayne Cashman, Don Awrey and Johnny Bucyk finished off the Maple Leafs.

Democrats Are Shaping Convention

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — National Democratic leaders, preparing to shape next year's nominating convention, have given a strong boost to reform proposals developed by two special commissions.

At the same time, they have moved to ease possible opposition at Friday's meeting of the Democratic National Committee by guaranteeing members elected next year a voting spot and outgoing members a nonvoting spot in state delegations.

The decisions, subject to approval of the party executive committee meeting Wednesday and by the national committee, are contained in a draft of the proposed convention call—the document that sets ground rules for the nominating convention and tells states how to go about picking delegates.

A copy obtained by The Associated Press shows strong support for key recommendations of the McGovern Commission on delegate-selection procedures and the O'Hara Commission on party and convention rules.

But the proposed call does not mention allocation of delegates among the states, likely to provide the major controversy at this week's meetings.

The O'Hara Commission voted last month subject to review at a meeting Tuesday, to allocate half the convention votes on the basis of population and half on the basis of the Democratic presidential vote in the last three elections.

The results: eight large industrial states, where Democratic strength has been concentrated, especially in the 1960 and 1968 elections, would have more than half the votes while smaller states would have less strength than in past conventions.

The O'Hara commission also limited the role of national committee members by requiring them to seek election with other delegates, rather than being assured of a seat as in the past.

GARLAND MEDDERS

"Telling It Like It Is" takes on a different form these days, according to Garland Medders, when he spoke at the Hope Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Town and Country on Friday, February 12. He recalled some poetry and prose that had meant much to him over the years, and he expressed regret that in this age of permissiveness, good taste seems to be disappearing. "The only way to combat the immorality of 'entertainment' and literature in our day is for the masses to cease their support of it," he said.

In the absence of the president and the vice-president, Benny Coleman, the past-president, had charge of the meeting. He welcomed a visiting Rotarian, Tom Callan of Nashville, and several guests, John Lester, Bob Webb, Max Hall of Little Rock, and Joe Stone of El Dorado.

Humidity Home in Winter

Colds More Likely in Dry Air

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Our home is heated and air-conditioned with an excellent central system. My husband and I disagree over what temperature to set the thermostat. This is very important to us. Isn't it easy to catch colds leaving an overheated home and going out into the cold air?

Dear Reader—This is a constant battle, not only in homes but also in large offices. Some large buildings have dummy thermostats that have nothing to do with regulating heat for the express purpose of letting people set and reset the thermostat without interfering with the over-all heating of the building.

There is a lot more to feeling warm than just temperature. Humidity has a lot to do with how you feel. In the summer if there is too much humidity you feel hot even at reasonable temperatures. The same is true in the winter. A dry house feels cold even at higher temperatures. The body is cooled by evaporation of moisture from the skin which goes on all the time. The evaporation is increased in dry air, thus dry air makes you feel cooler in summer or winter. Humidity interferes with evaporation, causing the body to build up heat.

As to your question, excessively dry air dries the normal nasal mucus. The protective lining loses its normal function and one is more likely to develop colds.

In the winter most homes are drier than the desert unless there is a humidifier. Nature's air contains moisture even in the desert.

The humidity should be between 35 and 40 per cent and if someone has a respiratory illness as high as 60 to 70 per cent. The usual home in the winter has a humidity of 10 to 15 per cent.

Humidity was carefully controlled in the space capsules to ensure the proper environment for the astronauts. Whenever the control did not work properly, which did happen, the astronauts were hot with too much humidity and too cool without it. A proper level of humidity can save on fuel bills.

The sensation of body warmth is also affected by how much heat the body generates or its metabolism. A person with low thyroid function feels colder than a person with increased thyroid function or a fever. A common factor is the level of physical activity. The active person will generate more heat and will want a cooler temperature while a sedentary person, sitting watching television, will want a warmer temperature. A happy solution is for the inactive person to do a little exercise or work requiring some physical exertion.

There are other factors which influence heat, too. Radiant heat through the glass may make one room feel warmer at lower temperatures than one without windows. So there is no one answer, but there are some good principles you can follow to keep everyone more comfortable and healthier.

Oswald: "In auction bridge players open very light in first or second seat, but required more for third hand openings, and a lot more for fourth hand bids. This carried over into contract. Thus, the first Culbertson system opened in first or second seat with 2½ quick tricks, but 3 were required in third seat and 3-plus in fourth. In today's hand South has 2½ Culbertson tricks and as dealer he would open. If North or West had dealt the hand, it would be passed out."

Jim: "Some people might pass today's hand. South has 14 high-card points and the JACOBY MODERN rule is to open all 14 HCP hands irrespective of vulnerability, position at the table, or the signs of the zodiac."

Oswald: "The old idea about strong third and fourth hand bids has fallen entirely by the wayside and some splinter systems go the other way and establish higher requirements for first and second seat."

Jim: "You were the first to propose that the requirements be the same in all seats and in JACOBY MODERN we open all hands with 14 high-card points; almost all hands with 13; most with 12 and some with 11. We don't open 10-pointers except with preempts of some sort."

Oswald: "South plays at one no-trump and has no trouble making it. He attacks diamonds after winning the spade. If East ducks twice he shifts to hearts and is sure of seven tricks. North can make three diamonds and West might make two spades if he could get there. Any plus score should be very satisfactory with these cards."

Q—Why is there total silence on the moon?
A—There is not enough atmosphere to carry sound.
Q—Who is the patron saint of physicians?
A—Saint Luke. His symbol is an ox, the sacrificial animal, because his gospel begins with the story of Zechariah, the priest, the father of John the Baptist.

Kickbacks Are Investigated in PX Probe

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee and the Defense Department are investigating allegations that civilian vendors used kickbacks to get preferred treatment from managers of a Navy liquor-buying fund on Guam.

Senate sources say the claims may be used in new hearings to illustrate "an unbelievable pattern of corruption" spreading through U.S. military bases in Southeast Asia.

A Pentagon spokesman, asked about the reports, replied: "There is a criminal investigation under way which, in part, involves beverage sales at service clubs on Guam. We can provide no details at this time because the investigation is still in progress."

"The key consideration is the relationship between the vendors and procurement officers," a Senate source said, adding, "The word kickback has been used."

The Senate's Permanent Investigations Subcommittee will begin Wednesday hearings focusing on the giant, worldwide Post Exchange—PX—system which serves military personnel and their families.

But Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., reporting on a trip to Southeast Asia last fall, said the scope of possible corruption of the funds which purchase beer and liquor for sale to American soldiers serving in the area is also vast. These funds are separate from the PX system.

The military services commonly provide liquor through so-called "locker funds," similar to the one operated on Guam.

In his report, not yet released but made available to the Associated Press, Gurney said these funds have built up relatively large assets over the years, even though they operate on a relatively small profit.

Officially, he said, liquor in Vietnam is stocked on the basis of "popular sales preference of alcoholic beverages" as reported in an authoritative American marketing magazine.

Unofficially, he said, "This really becomes a mixture beween national ratings and local demand."

In the hearings, "I think we shall see... some concerted efforts to artificially establish some local demand statistics in order to influence the procurement," Gurney said.

The Senate investigators, led by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., since 1968 have been examining management of the military's billions of dollars in so-called nonappropriated funds money generated through sales to soldiers at clubs, post exchanges, bowling alleys, movie theaters, slot machines, and many more off-duty activities.

These funds totaled more than $6 billion last year, about half from the PX system.

In previous hearings, the Senate investigators outlined what they said were two chief means of getting rich: Complicated deals in South Vietnam's currency blackmarket, and the use of cash—sometimes women and other favors—to win cooperation of senior sergeants and officers who run military clubs.

Of the current investigation, one source commented: "I think that we've got now is ten times what we had then."

Reports Envoy's Peace Plan to Be Rejected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel's Cabinet is rejecting the peace proposals offered by U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring, according to reliable sources in Jerusalem. The Egyptian government, however, replied "positively" to Jarring, the authoritative Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram reported.

The newspaper gave no details of the Egyptian response but said it had been forwarded to the Big Four governments.

Jarring submitted his proposals last week to Israel and Egypt. They have not been published, but it is understood they call for Israeli withdrawal from the Suez Canal and the Sinai Peninsula, occupied during the 1967 war; stationing of U.N. troops at the foot of the Sinai to protect Israeli shipping through the Strait of Tiran; and a declaration by Egypt of readiness to sign a peace treaty with Israel.

The two provisions concerning the occupied Arab territory were the basis of Israel's key objections, the sources said.

Israel has repeated often that the Sinai must not be released without a peace treaty and that it has little faith in U.N. peace-keeping forces. The informants said these old objections were brought up in Sunday's six-hour Cabinet meeting.

Premier Golda Meir's government also considered that Jarring overstepped his authority because his mandate from the U.N. Security Council authorized him to act only as a go-between and not as an initiator.

The sources said Israel would continue to press Egypt, through Jarring, for a response to its request last month that the Egyptians give a formal expression of willingness to conclude a peace treaty with Israel.

Leaders of most political parties in Israel and the Israeli press attacked Jarring's initiative, but in Washington, the State Department's leading specialist on the Middle East said the United States welcomes it.

Appearing on the CBS television program "Face the Nation," Joseph Sisco, undersecretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs, said Jarring "is now getting at the very crucial questions that have long divided the Arabs and the Israelis."

President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived in Cairo on a state visit, bringing President Anwar Sadat exchanges with President Nixon and British Prime Minister Edward Heath on the Middle East. It is understood he asked them to pressure Israel into softening its peace demands, and their replies arrived in Belgrade Friday. Tito, a solid backer of the Arabs.

Egypt sent two warplanes over Israeli positions on the Suez Canal Sunday, the Tel Aviv military command said, the first such intrusion since the cease-fire was extended Feb. 5.

Official Had Interest in Penn Central

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans had an interest of more than $300,000 in a Penn Central subsidiary at the time his department was involved in government efforts to keep the failing railroad afloat.

The Cabinet officer is listed in a congressional report and in company records as owning about 38,000 shares in Great Southwest Corp.—holdings Stans did not mention specifically in a financial statement to Congress when he was confirmed as President Nixon's secretary of Commerce in January 1969.

In that financial statement, Stans also pledged to put all of his holdings into a so-called blind trust and direct the trustee to make no accountings or reports whatsoever to him. However, in answer to written questions from The Associated Press, Stans disclosed awareness of a trust transaction which he said occurred in September 1969.

According to records of a Penn Central board meeting June 8, 1970, Penn President Paul A. Gorman told board members Stans was involved along with other Cabinet members in plans to grant $200 million in federal loan guarantees to the railroad.

Stans declined on Friday to grant an interview. But, responding to written questions shuttled into his office by an aide, he said he had attended "one meeting with some of the company's bankers in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury."

"But, said Stans, "in view of the circumstances of the matter I disqualified myself from any further meetings with them or with any of the principals."

In June 1970 the administration decided to grant the railroad the $200 million in loan guarantees under the Defense Emergency Act.

But in the face of opposition in Congress, chiefly from Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, these plans were abandoned on June 19. Two days later the railroad filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws. Congress since has voted $125 million in loan guarantees for the Penn Central.

The House Banking Committee, in a sharply critical staff report of Penn Central management released Sunday, listed Stans as owning 38,000 shares of Great Southwest, the Dallas-based real estate company more than 90 per cent owned by Penn Central.

Stans, not otherwise mentioned in the report, was described as one of four partners or former partners of Glore Forgan-Wm. R. Staats & Co. holding the same number of shares on June 12, 1970.

Stans resigned as president and a director of Glore Forgan, the railroad's chief investment adviser, when he took his Cabinet post.

Great Southwest stock is now being traded over-the-counter at about $3 a share.

Last June 12, it was going for 8 1/2 a share. On this basis, Stans' investment on June 12 was worth approximately $318,000.
